

22/1386/FUL Advertising Signage on High Street

Dear Laura,

The Exeter Cycling Campaign has concerns about the location of the proposed advertising hub on the High Street. Details of this we found here.

Bedford Street is a highway which is well used by people cycling. It is the culmination of the E3 strategic cycle way into the city centre.

One of the danger points of this E3 route is when it emerges, across the footway and onto the High Street. This location has high footfall as well as high bus traffic.

The location of the proposed advertising signage appears to block visibility for people cycling west along Bedford Street onto the High Street. This adds further to the danger at this junction.

We would ask please that the signage is moved further north up High Street so that it doesn't disrupt the sight lines for people cycling.

Thank you

Mike
